Caring Across Borders

Disambiguation

Last month one of our Gloryshine pastors texted me to pray specifically for a family that he is going to meet with and share the gospel (a family is willing to accept Christ). I prayed that early Sunday morning; perhaps at the same time our Pastor was meeting with the family. It was with much conviction that this family left their faith in the gods that they had believed in all their lives and came to saving faith in Christ!

The following week I received this photo of the couple who accepted Christ, who came to church, and also received a Bible that we had recently purchased.

As I was thinking about this family and praising God for them, it got me thinking what makes someone leave their old beliefs and come to the new faith? What kind of words can be used to convince somebody to change their faith? Then it dawned on me, it is not the work of man but the work of the Holy Spirit.

God uses our human language to share His good news to draw people to Himself. That is exactly what happened to this man and his wife. It is challenging at times and takes a bold approach to share the gospel. This is what our Church teams are doing in India. They are sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ and bringing people to Him. We see the work of the Holy Spirit in the lives of people.

In the gospel of Luke, it tells us that ... there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents... Luke 15:7

We are committed to preaching the good news of the gospel but to do that we need you in both prayer and financial partnership.

Like I mentioned in our last prayer letter, this November is the giving month for missions. Your gift will enable us to achieve our goal of taking care of three orphan girls, four Pastor's training, and their salaries, and go on a three months mission trip to India. We need you!

Will you prayerfully consider joining our team in giving to the Lord's work? It is with your partnership we will achieve and fulfill the great commission of our Lord Jesus. Thank you.

I will send Gloryshine's agenda for 2021 in our next prayer letter.

We are thankful to our God in this season of thanksgiving. Without your faithful partnership and both in prayers and financial support, we could not complete. We also want to thank everyone who has given generously! We are encouraged by your kind prayers and words of encouragement. Thank you and have a blessed Thanksgiving!

Serving the Lord together with you, Joseph, and Krista Janga
