January 2022 Newsletter

Dear Friend,

Grace and peace to you from our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I pray that your year has started well as you set all your hope in Christ, our Lord and Savior.

My prayer for you and myself this year is that, along with all the saints, "we will forget what lies behind and strain forward to what lies ahead, pressing on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 3:13b-14).

As I look forward to what the Lord has for me this year, I can't help but ponder His mercies from last year. It was a challenging year in many regards but also rewarding and blessed. The Lord chose to strengthen and bless my efforts. His grace humbles me. For instance, I was able to test the first section of my curriculum at my church. During the last lesson, the Lord was pleased to give new life to 22 children. It's been encouraging to see and hear these little ones seek after God, repent, and desire forgiveness of sins and a relationship with Christ. Would you please pray with me that their faith will flourish?

Halfway through testing the first section of the curriculum, a new vision was born out of the desire to see children read the word of God. I was perplexed each Sunday that less than eight children had Bibles out of 80 to 90 children. One of my partner churches, Chisholm Baptist Church, graciously provided some children's Bibles for a new program I started to help children memorize the word and form the habit of reading the Bible. The aim is to have children get Bibles by earning them through memorization. I believe this will begin to create a culture for the next generation that values studying the word of God.

A New Team Member

I am excited to face the year with a new team member; Goodness is her name. I recruited her last year, and she started working with me at the start of this month. She will be working part-time for now as I orient her and train her for full service in the future.

Opportunities for Service

The Lord has given me several opportunities to serve him with four partner churches this year. My calendar for training is full of consultation training for setting up family discipleship ministries at these churches. In light of the task ahead, I continue to crave your prayers for this year's work. Please pray for me.

1. Pray that I will have a growing desire to spend time in the word and prayer, carefully searching the word of truth and having it make a difference in my life first as I seek to divide it rightly.
2. Pray that I will schedule my time wisely between seminar training, curriculum writing, and personal rest/reset time.
3. Pray for wisdom as I serve and mentor Goodness.
4. Pray for Goodness that the Lord will bless her journey with CTCC.

Upcoming events and Prayer Requests

This weekend we have a retreat for praying and planning. Next month I have four days of Parent Awareness Seminar with our newest partner church (Living Word Baptist Church) and three consultation sessions at all three sites (Bethel, Emmanuel, and Living Word).

For ministry projects this year, could you pray as follows:

1. Pray that the Lord will direct us as we pray and plan this weekend.
2. Pray that the Lord will bless and encourage all the leaders involved in the family discipleship training process with strength and long-suffering.
3. Pray that the Lord will give me the wisdom to tailor training sessions according to the needs and personality of each site.
4. Pray that God will bless families through this endeavor and that their minds and practices will be transformed as concerns the discipleship of children.

I look forward to our continued partnership in this ministry and pray that the Lord will cause it to bear much fruit to his glory.

Yours in Christ,

Emmanuela
