

Dear Prayer Partners,

Greetings from the Land of smiles.

Praising God for the strength that He gives us everyday. Praising Him for the successful English camp last weekend. There were 2 amazing things happened of which I have witnessed during the camp.

Grace- she is an online student. I met her first during Santisuk Ladprao Christmas party. Pastor Don and I were in-charged of the worship time. She sat in our table with her friend and we were able to chat with her and started to be friends and the next time I saw her is at the camp last weekend. She was surprised when I remembered her and she just smiled.

Making friends and being available to attend to their needs is very crucial because these students were just observing. She attends from time to time at Silom worship service. The last night at the camp, she told someone that she prayed to receive Jesus as her personal Savior.

The boy named Lah. He is 12 years old. He was in Cj's small group at the camp. He admired Cj that when he decided to receive Jesus, he asked his teachers "Is P' Cj a Christian?" They told him yes.

Lah is lying down. This is Cj's small group. He became the leader of this group. He directs their music video entry for the competition at the camp.

We praise God for the opportunity to let us Shine here in Thailand.

There were 21 of us joined from our center.

The some of the highschooler girls are in my level one. Miw asked me, "What to say at the end of the prayer?" I told her you can say "in Jesus' name Amen." And she said oh okay. I didn't push her to say anything more.

Please help us pray for the following:

1. God will continue to work in the midst of us. God will give us more opportunity to shine and be available to the people around us.
2. God will heal both Pastor Dondon and Teacher Carol. Both of them are having hard coughs and sore throats. They keep on teaching even though they are sick because nobody can substitute for them. For 2 months now they have been teaching 2 to 3 classes from Monday to Thursday.

3. God will send more workers in the field. We need teachers and workers to shine and be available to these students.
4. Sunday Worship this coming Sunday. Some of the students will join our worship service. May the Lord our God open their hearts and their minds to His word.

Thank you so much for praying for all of us. May the Lord our God continue to bless you and honor your hearts desires. Blessings to all!

Your missionaries,
Pastor Dondon, Carol and CJ
