New Group of Youth Discipleship Class

It has been a hectic month, juggling graduate studies: exam week, preparing an online report with assigned topics, assignment readings, ministries, and personal matters. However, through it all, at the end of the day, God's sustaining grace and provision make my heart cheerful. Praise the Lord!

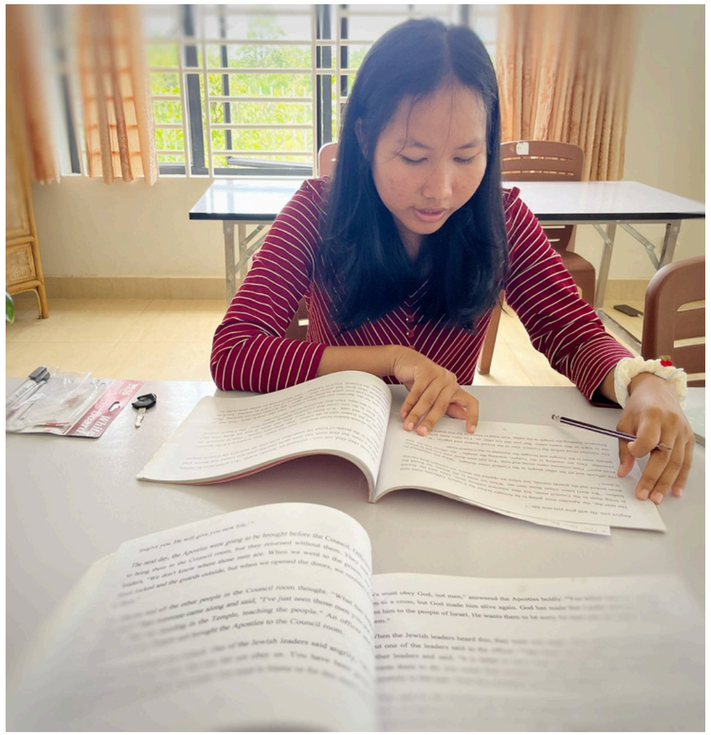

This is where my soul comes alive - teaching, sharing, and studying the Bible with young people. The Lord has His way and time of bringing people to be added to His divine kingdom, indeed. He is working in the hearts of these young girls. Our bible study is about salvation. These girls have been coming to Sunday school during their primary years, and now they are all secondary students (grades 9 and 8) and have just recently joined our Sunday worship. I had the opportunity to follow up with Seomie, Seorung, and Lita on their decision to become Jesus' followers. Praise the Lord for the decision made! Please pray for Kanya and Srineyang that they, too, will respond to the Gospel of salvation. I was able to ask them if they had made the decision already, and they were honest enough to say that they have not yet. They are receptive to the good news, and that's good to see and know. Please pray for both of them. Next week, on Thursday, I will follow up with them. Also, please pray for wisdom and guidance from the Holy Spirit, knowing this is all the work of God in us and through us.

Studying Christian Family with Elli, Sokhai and Metta

Another opportunity to teach and study the Bible with young people. It is a wonderful journey, very encouraging to see how the Word of God is transforming the lives of these young girls, and how they walk their lives of being “set apart” by God; so does mine. I encourage you to stay faithful in teaching the Word of God to souls God brings into your path, and continue to point and focus them with love and grace to Jesus Christ.

I praise the Lord that I am being equipped anew by godly mentors; through this, I am able to apply it to every class, discussion, and teaching with my students. Also, I am grateful that the Lord has given me ample years of experience (mountains and valleys) in the mission field, and that now I am able to look back and reflect on them on every page of tasks, reflections, and assignments our instructors give us. Above all, able to coach, train, and guide these young souls. To God be all the glory!

Cambodia -Thailand border

Please pray for & with me...Thank you!

- Daily good health, strength, and stamina as I fulfill my role as a student in graduate school (via online) and as a teacher
- Wisdom, guidance, and protection, as we plan different events for the young people and children - practical skills: cooking, budgeting, meal planning. Young people fellowship with other young people from the other districts.
- Wisdom and strength for Ptr.Heng and Ptr. Seouth (my teammates), who are the main trainors/teachers for computer classes (15 students) and guitar class (7 students) with the young people, Monday to Friday since it's summer break in Cambodia, among the other roles they are fulfilling.
- Seomie, Seorung, Lita, Kanya, and Srineyang - faith will be found in Jesus, rooted in Him, and they will grow in the grace and knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ and become lifelong followers of Jesus
- Sokhai - pray with her for her plan to study at Phnom Penh bible school. She will join Rosza and Bopha (young people from the church who are now in their first year). God's guidance and provision be upon her.
- Bible study classes will continue to equip us in the Word of God and our knowledge of Him for the purpose of becoming like Christ.
