Encouraging Words from Prison

Here are some encouraging words from students in prison.

One student said, "Praise God for all the good things that had happened to me, because I know that my family have not abandoned me. When I think about God, I think about my family too. May God stay in my heart forever. Amen."

Another said that, "The Christian class has provided me knowledge and basic understanding about biblical principles such as God, human beings, sin and salvation through Jesus. Joining this class is a very good thing and in fact the teachings of God in the Bible must be applied daily to keep us away from evil which is dangerous to life. I learned that the teachings from the Bible is very beneficial. Since I started reading the Bible daily, I felt that God sacrificed himself to rescue man from sin. That God helps man in many ways and as if God is very near, ready to help us.

As a prisoner, I find the courage to face the world daily. All of these, from reading the Bible, by believing in God and Jesus as the source of my strength and salvation from sin. I also find the courage of meeting my family in the future.

I get this encouragement from obeying, praying and reading the Bible daily.

Thank you my teachers for sacrificing your time to teach Christianity and providing many encouraging activities."

Friends, let us continue praying for them as we see God touching their hearts and minds through His Word.

We thank you for your prayer and generous regular giving.

We continue serving because of your faithfulness.

Steady On,
